This case was tried to the Court on December 7 and 8, 2010, and the Court deemed the matter submitted. Having considered all the evidence presented by the parties, as well as the arguments and briefing by counsel,

1 the Court makes the following Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law
2 pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 52.<sup>1</sup>

3

4 I. FINDINGS OF FACT<sup>2</sup>

5 A. The Parties

- 6 1. Plaintiff Z.W. is the minor daughter of decedent Shawn Lamond 7 Watson ("Watson"). She appears in this action by and through her 8 duly-appointed guardian ad litem, Crystal Christman. Plaintiff Sherman 9 Watson is Watson's father, and Plaintiff Catherine Thompson is 10 Watson's mother. (Pretrial Conference Order ("PTCO") ¶ 6 (c) - (e); 11 Doc. No. 71 (Plaintiffs' Memorandum of Contentions of Fact & Law 12 ("Pls.' Mem.")) at 1-2.)
- 13 2. Defendant City of San Bernardino, a public entity, employed Defendant 14 Jonathan Plummer ("Plummer") as a police officer on June 10, 2007.
15 (Doc. No. 48 (Defendants' Memorandum of Contentions of Fact & Law 16 ("Defs.' Mem.")) at 1.) Defendant Plummer was acting within the 17 course and scope of his employment and under color of state law at all 18 times relevant to this action. (PTCO ¶ 6 (a), (b).)

19

20 B. Events of June 10, 2007

- 21 3. At approximately 11:30 p.m. on June 10, 2007, San Bernardino Police 22 Officers Eddie Flores ("Flores") and Jonathan Plummer arrived at the 23 Ascot Apartments complex in the City of San Bernardino. Both Flores 24 and Plummer were familiar with the complex because they had been

25 _____

26 <sup>1</sup> Neither side submitted Proposed Findings of Fact & Conclusions of Law as required under Local Rule 52-1.

27 <sup>2</sup> To the extent any of the Findings of Fact more properly should be 28 considered Conclusions of Law, they shall be deemed as such.

1           dispatched to that location on many occasions. They considered it a 2           high-crime area based on their past experience investigating crimes
3           there, including homicides and other serious felonies. Defendant 4           Plummer had been employed as an officer with the San Bernardino 5           Police Department for approximately four years as of that night.

- 6         4. The officers went to the Ascot Apartments on routine foot patrol; they 7           were also there to obtain information about a probationer, and as part 8           of an ongoing investigation into the whereabouts of a suspect, for 9           whom there was an outstanding arrest warrant on a homicide charge.
10           (Trial Exs. 168, 169.)
- 11         5. After they arrived, parked their separate police cars, and began to walk 12           into the complex grounds, the officers saw a gathering of about ten 13           African-American men. These men dispersed immediately upon seeing 14           the police officers. When Defendant Plummer saw one of the men toss 15           to the ground a metal object he thought sounded like a gun, Defendant 16           Plummer yelled "Police" and began chasing that person. Defendant 17           Plummer called dispatch and reported the pursuit, and as he ran, he 18           heard gunshots.
- 19         6. At the same time Defendant Plummer was pursuing the first subject, 20           Officer Flores recognized Watson among the men gathered in the 21           complex, and began chasing him. The two officers passed one another 22           a minute or two later; although Officer Flores did not have a chance to 23           tell Officer Plummer the identity of the person he was pursuing (i.e., 24           Watson), Plummer knew Flores was pursuing a subject as well.
25           Officer Flores did yell to Officer Plummer to "be careful" because "shots 26           were being fired at [the officers]." Both officers described the scene as 27
28

"very chaotic," because of the number of persons scattering and the gunshots fired.

7. After passing Officer Flores, Defendant Plummer rounded the corner of Building H and suddenly saw a person, later identified as Watson,<sup>3</sup> crouched near the shrubbery.

8. Defendant Plummer yelled "Police! Freeze!" to Watson. Watson was at least ten to fifteen feet away from Defendant Plummer, and Defendant Plummer saw Watson "fiddling" with a dark object near his waistband that looked like a firearm. Plummer was startled to see Watson crouched outside the apartment building; the officer explained he was surprised because Watson was the only person in the area when all others outside were running away, and the apartment complex residents would be likely to give haven inside their apartments to one seeking to hide from police officers.

9. Watson said nothing in reply to Defendant Plummer's command to "Freeze!," and did not stop what he was doing with the dark object in or near his waistband; instead, he turned partly around and "engaged" or made eye contact with Defendant Plummer. Plummer fired two shots from his Heckler & Koch service weapon; one struck Watson in the back of his head and the other struck him in his back.

10. At the moment he fired, Defendant Plummer thought Watson was about to shoot at him.

11. Shortly before Defendant Plummer fired shots at Watson, Officer Flores heard Defendant Plummer yelling, and then heard two shots fired. Officer Flores did not know who had fired the shots; he peered around

1           the south east corner of Building H, and heard Defendant Plummer 2           reporting over his radio that he had fired shots. Officer Flores did not 3           see Watson holding a weapon or dropping one.

- 4       12. After the shooting, San Bernardino Police Department officers searched 5           the vicinity and found a 9 mm Browning Arms handgun in the shrubbery 6           between Watson's body and the apartment building. A fragment of a 7           black plastic replica handgun was found a few feet away from Watson's 8           body. A Davis Industries .380 caliber handgun was found in the 9           driveway adjacent to Building E, with a live round of ammunition in the 10          breach. A Walther Model PPKS BB pistol was recovered from the 11          parking lot adjacent lot to Building E, as well as additional fragments of 12          the black plastic replica handgun, and a magazine containing .380 13          caliber ammunition. Officers discovered bullet strikes to the wall on the 14          west driveway and expended .45 caliber bullet casings as well. (Tr. Ex.
15          16.) A small pink colored pill was found in the palm of Watson's right 16          hand after the shooting. (Tr. Ex. 2-K.) No weapon was found on 17          Watson's body.
- 18       13. Defendant Plummer saw something fly out of, or drop from, Watson's 19          right hand immediately after the shooting.
- 20       14. Defendant Plummer carried one service weapon that night, a 9 mm 21          Heckler & Koch, from which two rounds were fired the night of June 10, 22          2007. An expended 9 mm shell casing was found on the walkway east 23          of Building H. (Tr. Ex. 19.)
- 24       15. According to San Bernardino Police Detective O'Neal, who was the 25          homicide investigator called to the scene of the Watson shooting, it is 26          routine procedure to test a shooting subject's body for gun shot residue, 27          but no such testing was performed on Watson's body in this case.

- 1 Detective O'Neal could not explain why the testing was not performed 2 on Watson's body.
- 3 16. Dr. Glenn Holt, a deputy medical examiner with the County of San 4 Bernardino Coroner's office, performed the autopsy on Watson's body.
5 He testified that the bullet found in Watson's head would have rendered 6 Watson unconscious right away, and the victim would not have been 7 capable of making any voluntary movements after the bullet's impact.
8 That bullet entered the back of the cranial cavity 37 centimeters (5.5 9 inches) from the top of Watson's head, and the other entered his back 10 37 centimeters (14.6 inches) from the top of his head. Dr. Holt opined 11 that Watson was bent forward slightly at the time of the impact of the 12 first bullet.
- 13 17. Lavontae Moten was thirteen years old on the night of the shooting. He 14 lived in Building C of the Ascot Apartment complex, and was 15 interviewed by Sergeant Timothy Crocker of the San Bernardino Police 16 Department the morning after the shooting. Moten did not obey a trial 17 subpoena to appear and testify at trial, and the Court deemed him 18 unavailable as a witness and allowed both parties to present selected 19 portions of his deposition testimony. The Court also admitted his 20 videotaped police interview into evidence.
- 21 18. Moten has a "really bad" memory, caused in part by his attention deficit 22 hyperactivity disorder. (Moten Dep. 100:5-7.) Nevertheless, his 23 testimony, while vague in some respects, and contradictory at times, 24 corroborated some of the testimony of Officers Plummer and Flores 25 regarding the events at the Ascot Apartments on June 10, 2007.
- 26 19. Moten first told Detective Crocker he had seen a number of men 27 running, police officers pursuing them, and then sounds like

28

1 "firecrackers." This is consistent with the police officers' testimony that 2 they heard gunshots fired as they each pursued suspects when the 3 crowd of men dispersed. During the police interview, Moten said had 4 said he had witnessed the events, from beginning to end, outside his 5 apartment. Later, Moten admitted this was not truthful, and testified in 6 his deposition that he had been visiting his girlfriend at her apartment 7 within the complex and heard nothing at all — no one shouting, no one 8 running, no gunshots — until he was on the stairs outside her apartment 9 building, when he heard someone say "Put your hands up" and saw 10 Shawn Watson running in his direction, with a police officer in pursuit.
11 (Moten Dep. 49:15-25; 54:17-25; 55:1-2; 131:8-10.)

- 12 19. Moten contradicted this testimony when he later claimed he first saw 13 the police officers at the time they arrived at the Ascot Apartments 14 complex. (Moten Dep. 128:13-25; 129:1-2.) Moten testified that the 15 officer who shot Watson was Caucasian, or perhaps Hispanic, and 16 reiterated that statement several times. (Moten Dep. 159:23-25; 160:1-17 6; 165:8-18.) Officer Plummer is African American and could not be 18 mistaken for Caucasian or Hispanic. Officer Plummer consistently has 19 admitted he fired the shots at Watson and the forensic evidence 20 corroborates this, as two rounds were fired from his Hechler & Koch 21 service weapon that night. Officer Flores was carrying two handguns, a 22 9 mm Glock and a Hechler & Koch, and both were fully loaded when 23 inspected after the shooting.
- 24 20. Moten described seeing the officer to whom he ascribed Watson's 25 shooting peering around Building H, with his firearm drawn, 26 immediately before the shooting. Officer Flores testified that when he 27 heard the shots fired by Officer Plummer — but did not know who had 28

1 fired – he drew his weapon and peered around the corner of Building H, 2 before approaching the scene of the shooting. Taking all of the 3 testimony in context, the most plausible explanation of Moten's 4 testimony is that Moten saw Flores, a Hispanic officer, peering around 5 the building before Watson was shot. The Court does not find credible 6 Moten's testimony that he witnessed the shooting itself, given his 7 contradictory statements about whether he saw the actual shooting, 8 where he was standing at the time of the shooting, the number of shots 9 fired, what he could see from his vantage point, and the shooting 10 officer's appearance.

12 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

13 A. Jurisdiction

- 14 1. The Court has jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 15 (federal question jurisdiction). Personal jurisdiction exists over 16 Defendants because they reside in San Bernardino County, California, 17 within the Central District of California and the Eastern Division thereof.
18 (PTCO ¶ 3.) Venue is properly laid in the Central District of California 19 under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because the claims arose in the Central 20 District of California, Eastern Division. (Id.) Federal jurisdiction and 21 venue are admitted. (Id.)
- 22 2. Both sides waived their right to jury trial. (See Doc. No. 76 (Dec. 2, 23 2010, Order Re Motions in Limine and Request for Jury Trial.)

27

28

1       B. Claim Under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for Violations of Watson's Right
2       Under the Fourth Amendment to Be Free From Unlawful Seizure

- 3       3. The first claim is brought only by Plaintiff Z.W. To recover under 4       section 1983 for a Fourth Amendment violation, Plaintiff Z.W. must 5       prove by a preponderance of the evidence that (1) Defendant Plummer
6       acted under color of state law; and (2) the acts of Defendant Plummer 7       deprived decedent Shawn Watson of his right under the Fourth 8       Amendment to be free from unreasonable seizure.
- 9       4. Under the Fourth Amendment, a person has the right to be free from an 10      unreasonable seizure of his person. To prove Defendant Plummer 11      deprived decedent of this Fourth Amendment right, Plaintiff must prove:
12      (1) Defendant Plummer seized Watson; (2) in seizing Watson, 13      Defendant Plummer acted intentionally; and (3) the seizure was 14      unreasonable.
- 15      5. Plaintiff Z.W. carried her burden of proof as to the first two elements; 16      there was no dispute that Defendant Plummer shot Watson twice, thus 17      "seizing" him within the meaning of the Fourth Amendment, nor that he 18      did so intentionally.
- 19      6. To satisfy the third element, Plaintiff Z.W. must prove that Defendant 20      Plummer did not have probable cause to believe Watson posed an 21      imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury to Defendant Plummer 22      or to others.
- 23      7. All excessive force claims under the Fourth Amendment, including 24      deadly force claims, should be analyzed under the objective 25      reasonableness standard set forth in Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 26      (1989), Tennessee v. Garner, 471 U.S. 1 (1985), and Scott v. Harris, __ 27      U.S. __, 127 S. Ct. 1769 (2007). In deciding whether Plaintiff Z.W.
28

1 proved by a preponderance of the evidence that Defendant Plummer 2 used excessive force in this case, the Court determines whether the 3 officer used only such force as was "objectively reasonable" under all of 4 the circumstances, judging the reasonableness of the particular use of 5 force from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene and not 6 "with the 20/20 vision of hindsight." Graham, 490 U.S. at 396-97.

7 "[T]here is no special Fourth Amendment standard for unconstitutional 8 deadly force . . . Instead, 'all that matters is whether [the police officer's] 9 actions were reasonable.'" Acosta v. Hill, 504 F.3d 1323, 1324 (9th 10 Cir. 2007) (citing Scott, 127 S. Ct. at 1777-78).

- 11 9. A court should consider the totality of the facts and circumstances in a 12 particular case in deciding whether the force used to effect a particular 13 seizure under the Fourth Amendment was reasonable, including "the 14 severity of the crime at issue, whether the suspect poses an immediate 15 threat to the safety of the officers or others, and whether he is actively 16 resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight." Blanford v.
17 Sacramento, 406 F.3d 1110, 1115 (9th Cir. 2005) (citation omitted); see 18 Jackson v. City of Bremerton, 268 F.3d 646, 652 (9th Cir. 2001). The 19 Court finds the following circumstances were present and known to 20 Defendant Plummer in this case:

- 21
- 22 • Defendant Plummer and his fellow officer, Officer Flores, went to 23 the Ascot Apartments complex shortly before midnight on June 24 10, 2007, to investigate the whereabouts of a suspect, for whom 25 an arrest warrant on a first degree murder charge had been 26 issued (among other reasons);

- 1     • Defendant Plummer was familiar with the Ascot Apartments
2         complex because he had been called there at least twenty times 3         in connection with serious crimes, including narcotics and violent 4         crimes; Officer Plummer regarded that location as a "high-crime" 5         area;
- 6
- 7     • When Officers Plummer and Flores arrived at the complex, they 8         immediately observed a gathering of about ten African-American 9         men who dispersed as soon as they saw the police officers; 10         Officer Plummer saw one of those men throw to the ground 11         something that sounded like a metal firearm;
- 12
- 13     • During his foot pursuit of the man who threw the object to the 14         ground, Defendant Plummer heard gunshots, and when he 15         encountered Officer Flores a minute or two later during the latter's 16         own foot pursuit of another man, Flores warned Plummer to be 17         careful because gunshots had been fired;
- 18
- 19     • When Defendant Plummer rounded the corner of Building H in the 20         complex and encountered Watson crouching near the outdoor 21         staircase and shrubbery next to the building, Defendant Plummer 22         was startled to see Watson; Officer Plummer found it unusual that 23         Watson had not entered one of the apartments as had the other 24         fleeing men;
- 25
- 26     • Watson was facing away from Defendant Plummer, at a slight 27         angle; Defendant Plummer thought that Watson appeared to have
- 28

1           a dark metal object, which appeared to be a firearm, in his hands
2           or waistband; Watson was "fiddling with" the dark object;

3

- 4           • Defendant Plummer warned Watson that he was a police officer
5           and commanded him to "Freeze," but Watson did not obey
6           Plummer's command; Watson continued to fiddle with the dark 7           metal object and turned his head in Plummer's direction; and
- 8
- 9           • These events took place in a "chaotic" atmosphere and within a 10          short period, during which Defendant Plummer heard gunshots 11          fired; less than five minutes elapsed between the time the officers 12          arrived at the complex and when Defendant Plummer fired two 13          shots at Watson.

- 15       10. In light of these circumstances, Plaintiff has not met her burden of 16          proving by a preponderance of the evidence that Officer Plummer used 17          excessive force when he fired two deadly shots at Watson.

18

19       C. Claim Under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for Violations of Plaintiffs' Rights
20       Under the Fourteenth Amendment to Be Free From Undue State 21       Interference With Familial Relations

- 22       11. To prevail on their claim for violation of their Fourteenth Amendment 23          due process liberty interest in companionship and society with the 24          decedent Shawn Watson, Plaintiffs Sherman Watson, Catherine 25          Thompson, and Z.W. must prove each of the following elements by a 26          preponderance of the evidence: (1) Defendant Plummer acted under 27          color of state law; (2) Defendant Plummer's conduct "shocks the 28

1 conscience"; and (3) Defendant Plummer's conduct caused Watson's 2 death. There is no dispute as to the first and third elements, and the 3 Court finds Plaintiffs have met their burden as to them.

- 4 12. As to the second element, to decide whether a defendant's conduct 5 "shocks the conscience," the Court first must determine whether the 6 circumstances when Defendant Plummer acted were such that "actual 7 deliberation" by the officer was practical. Wilkenson v. Torres, 610 F.3d 8 546, 554 (9th Cir. 2010). "[W]here actual deliberation is practical, then 9 an officer's deliberate indifference may suffice to shock the conscience, 10 but, on the other hand, where a law enforcement officer makes a snap 11 judgment because of an escalating situation, his conduct may only 12 found to shock the conscience if he acts with a purpose to harm 13 unrelated to legitimate law enforcement objectives." Id. (citing Porter v.
14 Osborn, 546 F.3d 1131,1140 (9th Cir. 2008)).
- 15 13. In light of the circumstances set forth in Paragraph 9, above, Plaintiffs 16 have failed to meet their burden of proving, by a preponderance of the 17 evidence, that Defendant Plummer's conduct shocks the conscience.
18 As described above, Defendant Plummer went to the Ascot Apartments 19 with another officer late at night, partly on routine patrol in a high-crime 20 area and partly to investigate an execution-style homicide. He saw a 21 large group of adult men disperse as soon as the men saw the police 22 officers arrive, and saw and heard one of the men discard what 23 appeared to be and sounded like a firearm. When Defendant Plummer 24 pursued that man, he heard gunshots fired in the apartment complex 25 and reasonably believed the shots were directed at him and his fellow 26 officer, who also was chasing a suspect. In the midst of this chaotic 27 scene, Defendant Plummer encountered Watson crouching near the 28

shrubbery next to Building H, touching a dark object at or near his waistline that appeared to be a firearm; the officer identified himself and ordered Watson to "Freeze," but Watson did not obey the command and continued to touch the dark object. Defendant Plummer reasonably feared for his own life and fired two shots. Thus, Defendant Plummer faced an escalating situation where he made a snap judgment; he did not act with a purpose to harm unrelated to legitimate law enforcement objectives, that is, the safety of the officers and members of the public.

D. Monell Claim

14. Plaintiffs bring a claim under Monell v. Department of Social Services, 436 U.S. 658, 691 (1978) against the City of San Bernardino. As Plaintiffs have not established liability under any of their claims pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 1983, the city cannot be liable under a Monell theory. See Los Angeles v. Heller, 475 U.S. 796, 799 (1994). Accordingly, Defendant City of San Bernardino is entitled to judgment in its favor on the Monell claim.

E. Claim for Negligence

15. To establish their claim for negligence, Plaintiffs must prove that (1) Defendant Plummer was negligent; and (2) Defendant Plummer's negligence was a substantial factor in causing Watson's death.<sup>4</sup> Ann

<sup>4</sup> Defendants claim, incorrectly, that Plaintiffs' negligence claim encompasses a claim for negligent training and supervision. (See Defs.' Mem. Cont. Law & Fact at 14.) Plaintiffs' claim for negligence only seeks recovery on the theory that "Officer Jonathan Plummer, while acting in the course and scope of his employment as a City police officer, was negligent in his use of excessive deadly force against Shawn Watson . . ." (Pls.' Mem. (continued...))

1       M. v. Pac. Plaza Shopping Ctr., 6 Cal. 4th 666, 673 (1993) (citing 2       United States Liab. Ins. Co. v. Haidinger-Hayes, Inc., 1 Cal. 3d 586, 3       594 (1970)). Negligence is defined as "the failure to use reasonable 4       care to prevent harm to oneself or to others." Weaver v. Chavez, 113 5       Cal. App. 4th 1350, 1355-56 (2005).

- 6       16. Where an officer's conduct in shooting a suspect is objectively 7       reasonable, he cannot be held to have breached the duty to use 8       reasonable care. See Brown v. Ransweiler, 171 Cal. App. 4th 516, 9       528-29 (2009); Hernandez v. City of Pomona, 46 Cal. 4th 501, 513-14 10      (2009). As discussed above, Defendant Plummer's actions were 11      objectively reasonable, and hence Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

12

13      F. Claim for Battery

- 14      17. In order to establish their claim for battery, Plaintiffs must prove: (1) 15       Defendant Plummer intentionally performed an act that resulted in a 16       harmful or offensive contact with Watson's person; (2) Watson did not 17       consent to the contact; and (3) the harmful or offensive contact caused 18       injury, damage, loss or harm to Plaintiffs. Brown, 171 Cal. App. 4th at 19       526-27. In addition, when suing a law enforcement officer, a plaintiff 20       "must prove that the peace officer's use of force was unreasonable" 21       because "[a] state law battery claim is a counterpart to a federal claim 22       of excessive use of force." Id. at 527. Thus, as Plaintiffs have failed 23       to meet their burden of proving that Defendant Plummer's use of force
